GRADE TWENTY-FIRST STREET

Chairman Patram and City Engineer Agree Upon Improvement.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street,

Chairman R. L. Patram, of the Street Committee, and City Engineer Lipscomb yesterday afternoon decided, after being vested with the authority so to do, to grade, gravel and roll Twenty-first Street from Hull to Stockton Street for Glass Works, which will begin operation at the corner of Stockton and Twentyfirst on the 5th of June. This improvement to the street will give the new industry and outlet to Hull Street, the in thoroughfare, that will equal a ed street, and it will cost the city paved street, and it will cost the city practically nothing. The grading will be done by city hands, who are employed yearly. The city owns a rock crusher and from this the necessary gravel will be furnished, and the street will be placed in a condition that will allow of heavy loads being hauled over it with comparatively little difference from a paved street.

The new enterprise will begin opera-tion on the 5th of June. There will be about fifty men employed. The ma-jority of these glass-blowers have al-ready moved to Manchester, many with their families. As a result there are very few houses for rent in the city at

Half of the merchants in the city neglected to secure licenses to do business within the prescribed limit and as a result a score or more have been summoned to appear before Mayor H. A. Maurice and explain the reason for their tardiness. Chief of Police Lipscomb yesterday morning detailed two officers to work on this particular line, and for more than half an hour Mayor Maurice was busy placing his signature to summonses. Many failed to get licenses for wagons, and these have been cited to tell the court about the trouble to-day. one.

The subjected was fully presented, and thereafter the speaker invited questions from his hearers. These he answered with ease and apparently to the satisfaction of his catechists. The entire lecture was full of instruction to the student of the Bible, presenting in a pleasing manner the fruits of years of careful and discriminating study.

"Willard Is Strongest."

Colonel Robert Catlett, superintendent of schools of Rockbridge county, and a well known lawyer, is in the city for a few days on private business. He was recently re-elected superintendent. Colonel Catlett declined to discuss the senatorial situation, but expressed the belief that Captain Willard was the strongest of three candidates for the guberpatorial nomination, so dar as Rockbridge is concerned. Colonel Catlett is at Murphy's for a day or two.

"Lewis Will be Governor."

Hon. C. A. Heermans, of Montgomery county, member of the House of Delegates, who is in the city on business, announces that he is a candidate for reelection, and so far as known will be unopposed in his own party. He hopes to win over the Democratic nominee. Mr. Heermans predicts that Mr. Swanson will be the Democratic nominee, but that Juage Vants will be German.

Judge Mann and Lynchburg. Judge Mann and Lynchburg.

A private letter received in this city from Lynchburg expresses the belief and hazards a prophecy that Judge William Hodges Mann will carry that city by a small plurality in the triangular gubernance sentiment has always been strong in that city, and with the elimination of the colored vote the proportion of the temperance vote to the entire vote has increased opnsiderably.
